WORLDNETDAILY.COM THE DIGITAL PIONEER

22
YEARS

IN INDEPENDENT ONLINE NEWS SINCE 1997

Dear WND Reader,

Google's all-out assault on conservative voices is reaching a fever pitch.

The latest? Google recently blocked a "controversial" conservative educational video on the 10 Commandments . . . apparently because it included the word "murder." (You know, as in "Thou shalt not murder.")

You and I know a BS argument when we see it.

And you and I also know this latest round of Big Tech's anti-conservative censorship isn't about "safety," "civility," "community standards" or any of their other favorite moral buzzwords.

It's about shutting up and shutting down the conservative majority, once and for all.

Right now, Big Tech—companies like Facebook and Google, who control virtually everything the American people see, hear, and do on the internet—has essentially decided to outlaw any voice that isn't far-left.

Worse, they've now actively begun taking steps to suppress WND's content, block our stories, and eliminate our life-blood of advertising revenue . . . all in the hopes that independent, honest journalists will be forced to shut up and go away.

I don't want to think about a world without conservative, Christian media ... where the only news the American people get is filtered through the warped brains of far-left anti-American talking heads.

But right now, Big Tech is winning this fight.

Every single day, Google and Facebook bury the honest and unbiased journalism of conservative, truthful reporters, in their quest to promote their favorite far-left "narratives." You know, narratives like Trump is a racist; men are actually women; Republicans are racists; the world is ending in 12 years; all white people are racists; Trump built concentration camps on our southern border; you're a racist; and so on.

Because of our tireless commitment to the truth, WorldNetDaily early on emerged as Public Enemy Number One in Big Tech's war on the conservative media . . . and companies like Google and Facebook have been punishing us for several years by starving us of needed ad revenues and blocking the public from seeing our stories by their grossly biased search algorithms.

To be very frank: Big Tech's relentless assault on WND has hit our bottom line hard ... and the only way we can continue to promote free and honest journalism is with the help of loyal and good-hearted readers like you.

Will you consider helping WND continue to report on the critical stories the mainstream media won't touch by contributing just \$25, \$50, \$75, \$100 or more right away?

We can't let Big Tech win this fight. We can't let the conservative media be drowned out by the far-left elites at Facebook and Google.

Thanks so much for all your help, and may God bless you.
