

"Youuuuuu might be a gun nut if..."

Salon.com ran a story with that headline.

Their opinion?...

Let's just say they're not a fan of "gun nuts".

But here's the real question:

Is that an accurate description of a responsibly armed American?

I say NO.

Do we love guns?

YES.

Do we obsess over the coolest guns out there?

YES.

Do we potentially have more guns than the average person?

YES.

But what really motivates responsibly armed Americans to buy and carry guns?

We're motivated by...

- A deep appreciation for human life

- A true love for our families
- A real willingness to defend our communities from ANYONE who would threaten them

That doesn't sound like a "gun nut" to me.

That sounds like somebody who cares.

Do you share these same motivations?

If so, I'd like to invite you to join me and over 670,000 other responsibly armed Americans in the U.S. Concealed Carry Association.

Because the USCCA exists to make America a safer, better place for everyone.

How?

Every USCCA Member has the resources they need to be prepared for a self-defense incident.

That includes:

- HUNDREDS of self-defense educational resources
- Access to high-quality online training and training systems
- Self-defense liability insurance<sup>0</sup> is an automatic membership benefit.

The reason?

So you can keep yourself and your family safe.

It's that simple.
